Two Girls Killed
While They Sleep;
Boy Tries Suicide

AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 27.—Gladys Solomon, 16 and Nell Umberson, 13, were shot and instantly killed while sleeping in bed at the Umberson home in the Sunset community, 15 miles northeast of Lackney, Floyd County, about 4 o'clock this morning.

A short time later Houston Upton, 19, member of a well known family in the same community, attempted suicide, officers report. The attempted suicide occurred in a school house about a mile from the Umberson home.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR HOWAT

Labor Leaders of Kansas
To Appear in Argument
Before High Bar.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—When it disposes of its opinions on the reconvining today after the usual February recess, the supreme court will hear oral arguments in the case brought by Alexander Howat and other organized labor leaders of Kansas held on contempt proceedings by the court of that state.

Howat, who recently unsuccessfully contested at Indianapolis the restoration to leadership of the United Mine Workers of Kansas, also is attacking the constitutionality of the action of the Kansas legislature in creating the court of industrial relations.

The contempt proceedings originated with the refusal of Howat and his assistants to appear before the court of industrial relations at Pittsburg, Kan., March 29, 1920, and testify in an investigation of a controversy between employers and employees relating to working conditions in the coal mines of Cherokee and Crawford counties.

Summons to Testify.

The refusal was brought to the attention of the court of Kansas, and upon application of the attorney general of the state, the Crawford district court issued an order requiring them to appear forthwith before the court of industrial relations and testify. Howat and his colleagues asserted they knew nothing whatever of the order and had been given no opportunity to appear. On the day the order was issued the attorney general of the state court filed an affidavit in which he charged Howat and his assistants with contempt of the order with conspiracy to violate it.

In behalf of the union miners' leaders, counsels denied all of the accusations and challenged the validity and constitutionality of the court of industrial relations. This question is now before the nation's highest court.

CITY OUT AFTER MONEY TO BUILD OZARK DIVISION

Ada's Quota of $1,000 To Be Forthcoming, Stall
Tells President.

MEETING IS CALLED

Good Roads Boosters Will Meet Thursday Night to Plan Campaign.

After several months of remaining in the back ground good road boosters of this section are again coming to the front and propose to put forth their best efforts in an attempt to raise Ada's quota in the Texarkana-Stratford route of the Ozark Trails system, according to N. B. Stall, president of the Ada Good Roads Motor club.

The city's quota has been set at $1000 for this section, he said, which must be raised by popular subscription. All other towns on the route have raised their quotas and Ada is the only place yet to turn in the remaining amount of money needed to complete the marking of the trail. The money to be raised will go for marking the route, erecting a pyramid in Ada and to meet other expenses.

J. E. Swepston, president of the Ozark Trails system, has notified Mr. Stall that if the Ada section of the route gets busy and raises its quota, the Stratford-Texarkana route will be marked on the Ozark Trails map now being prepared for the press. This map will include all routes of the United States, it was said.

Tourists to Come.

If the route through here is marked, it was explained, Ada will be in line for a large percent of the annual tourists who pass through from the east to the western summer resorts. The trail at Texarkana is to be added to another branch trail to New Orleans, which connects with the Oklahoma City highway at Stratford. This puts Ada on a route from New Orleans to Los Angeles.

A meeting of the Good Roads Motor Club has been called for 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms by R. W. Simpson, vice-president of the branch trail, who has been placed in charge of the Ada district. Plans for raising the money will be discussed. It is expected that all boosters for good roads will be present at the meeting.

NURSE TO FINISH HEALTH SURVEY HERE THIS WEEK

That the health survey of city schools will be completed this week is the opinion of Mrs. Lucy Henderson, trained nurse in charge of the work. She has completed her examinations at the Hays, Willard, Glenwood and Teachers' College training school and is working to-day at Irving school.

As soon as she completes work at Irving school she will go to Washington school. Next Monday she plans to go to Stonewall for a two days' examination of school children. Francis will be the last place visited.

Mrs. Henderson expects to have her general report of condition of the city school children ready by Saturday. The report will, according to information given out as she completed work at the various schools, contain information that will astonish many parents and which will also reveal many points heretofore unmentioned.

Reports coming from parents of Hays school children, the first to be inspected, are that the work has already done much good. The city superintendent's office stated this morning that the co-operation of the patrons of that ward district was as good as could be hoped for and that results being obtained were good.

BRYDIA CHOSEN CO. CHAIRMAN

Committee Fight Becomes Heated Over Seating of Some Proxies.

The meeting of the Democratic county committee held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing was anything but harmonious.

Fireworks started when a motion was offered to recognize no proxies except those held by persons residing in the precincts of the members giving said proxies. Judge I. M. King raised a point of order against the motion on the ground that it was contrary to the constitution issued by the state organization.

A. L. Bullock and Robert Wimbish contended that it did not conflict with the constitution and spoke in favor of the motion. Judge Bolen spoke against it and Chairman Brydia after some remarks sustained the point of order and ruled that all proxies filed with the secretary should be allowed to vote. His ruling was sustained by a vote of 35 to 21, all proxies voting in the matter.

Wimbish to Contest.

Indications are that the battle will be carried to the state committee at its first meeting.

When asked whether he intended to contest the election of Mr. Brydia as chairman of the Pontotoc County Central Committee, Robert Wimbish said:

"I most certainly do, not only for myself, but for Mrs. Larsh and Charley Bobbitt, for vice-chairman and secretary, respectively. As we view it there were fifteen illegal votes cast for Mr. Brydia, and one for us. Mr. Gaines of Stonewall was out of the room when the vote for chairman was taken, when he returned he requested that his vote be counted for me, this was refused by the chairman. Under the result as declared by Mr. Brydia, chairman, he received 32 votes and I received 21 votes. If our contention is right seventeen of his votes and one of mine will be thrown out by the state committee, and the vote of Mr. Gaines will be counted for me, this giving me a majority of six votes. The result as now announced is that Mr. Brydia received 34 votes. This still gives me a majority of 4 of the legal votes. That is all that I care to say at this time, other than that we confidently expect to win the contest."

Mrs. Henderson expects to have her general report of condition of the city school children ready by Saturday. The report will, according to information given out as she completed work at the various schools, contain information that will astonish many parents and which will also reveal many points heretofore unmentioned.

Reports coming from parents of Hays school children, the first to be inspected, are that the work has already done much good. KLAN PROMISES LOYAL SUPPORT TO ADA PASTOR

"Toughs Can't Run You Out of Town" Says Sign Left In Crowded Church.

MORRIS IS GRATEFUL

City Gets First Chance at
"Close Up" on K. K.
In Action.

Just after Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church, had finished his usual invocation prayer at the opening of the service last night, about 50 robed Ku Klux Klansmen appeared at the door, marched sedately down the crowded aisle, shook hands cordially with the pastor, and disappeared through the door they had entered.

Two of the figures fell out of the procession when it had reached the front of the church and hung up signs on each side of the pulpit which said "Brother Morris, we're for you" and "The toughs can't run you out of town." As the parade vanished, a wave of applause lasting several minutes swept the house.

Rev. Morris explained to the congregation, after the mysterious visit, that certain politicians had threatened to attack his character.

Last night's demonstration was the first "close up" the city has had of the Ku Klux in action. First appearance of the organization here came in the form of a lone horseman riding through the streets last summer. A parade in cars was the only other exhibition.

Came From North.

Ushers of the church said they first noticed the hooded men approaching the building in single file, from the north. The leader made a sharp turn, raised his hand when half way up the steps, and the cavalcade halted until the pray was finished. Then as the shadow of the first giant Klansmen fell across the threshold of the building, silence that had reigned during the invocation was intensified.

In single file they proceeded toward the altar. The leader stopped in front of the pulpit, motioned to Rev. Morris to approach him, and grasped his hand warmly. The others imitated his greetings. There was not even a whispered word anywhere down the file. When the front of the procession reached the door again, the last man had not entered. Ushers threw open both doors and the men disappeared as they had appeared.

Morris thanked the Klan heartily for its manifestation of support and expressed his appreciation to all good citizens of the town for the spirit of co-operation they had shown him.

About 600 persons were present and saw the spectacle. After the Klansmen had gone the congregation unanimously declared itself back of the pastor.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HOW GOD LOVES:—For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

ONLY SERVICE WORTH WHILE.

One of the basic teachings of Christ is that real greatness lies in service; that the true test of greatness is the willingness to serve humanity in any position, no matter how humble or disagreeable. He put this into practice more than once and by his example rebuked his disciples who contended among themselves about who should be the greatest when the new kingdom was established.

Another illustrious example of this kind was Epamondas, the great Theban general, who made Thebes supreme in Greece for the only time in its history, even inflicting a crushing defeat on the grim Spartans, the only ones they had suffered in more than a century. However, like all other great men, he was envied by men of small minds and not only deprived of his high office, but was put to cleaning the streets of the city among the slaves to whom such work was usually assigned. He saw an opportunity for service to his people even here and never before was the city kept in such a good sanitary condition. Finally the state was in grave danger and those who sought to degrade him became panic stricken and besought him to save them. He laid aside his broom and shovel, put on the sword of the general and again rescued his people from their enemies, although he himself died from a wound received in the battle.

Human nature has not changed. Men still strive to attain the highest and most preferred positions in the world and are likely to scorn the humbler services. The American army did good work in saving Cuba from the clutches of the Spaniards, but after all was this more heroic than that of the sanitary officers who cleaned up the cities and banished yellow fever for the first time in centuries, not only saving thousands of lives in Cuba every year but freeing the United States from a standing menace that on several occasions became a tragic reality and wrought devastation in this country, carrying off thousands of victims and paralyzing business? No man could make a greater sacrifice than the doctor who died of yellow fever in proving that this disease is carried by mosquitoes, but his service was of what is usually taken as the humbler kind and few outside the medical fraternity remember his name. The world still worships at the shrine of power, considering the man who attains the loftiest position in business or governmental affairs the one to whom the most honor is due, paying little regard to the one in an humbler sphere whose services to the human race may be of the most vital importance. Service may be needed in the Valley of Humiliation, but the average man prefers to be seen by the public on the mountain top.

EATING CROW.

Talk about eating crow, that has been the principal article on the menu of President Harding and his administration ever since he went into the White House a year ago. The republicans won on a cry for a change, declaring that Wilson's policies and methods were all wrong. However, circumstances have forced Harding and Hughes to follow most of the policies outlined by Wilson and now comes the climax in the four-power treaty. Wilson was denounced because of the secrecy attending the framing of the Treaty of Versailles and now when the senate asks for the minutes and memoranda of the negotiations of this treaty, which was drawn with the utmost secrecy, they reply that no written record exists.

It was all wrong for Wilson to enter into secret negotiations but now they must defend themselves on the same count. The democratic senators will probably make the critics of Wilson eat some crow, but it is to be hoped that if the treaty will help the cause of peace they will lay aside the partisan politics that characterized the fight on Wilson and give it their indorsement. It is not a question of who originates a plan or policy, the whole thing is whether or not it will prove beneficial to the nation as a whole.

Right now is the time to plant shade trees. Everyone knows what a wonderful improvement shade trees have made in the appearance of Ada to say nothing of the comfort of the inhabitants.

Gen. Von Ludendorf, quartermaster general of the German army in the world war, is now living in his villa at Munich, devoting his time to writing. He still lives in the days of Wilhelm's greatness. When this photo of Ludendorf was taken recently he insisted that the 20-inch statue of "my kaiser" be in the photo.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

It occurs to me that if cotton planters are to get ahead of the boll weevil this year, in case his tribe returns in force, they should follow the advice of those who live in regions which have been infested with the weevils for several years. This is to plant an early maturing variety that will mature a bottom crop before the weevils are numerous enough to get it all. Uncle Nat Hisaw told me in the fall that all the cotton he made to speak of was planted early and escaped the freeze. I don't know what variety he planted. Clarence Roberts of the Farmer-Stockman writes of a visit he recently made to the boll weevil region of Mississippi, where they have not been free of them since 1916, that the farmers make it a point to plant early maturing varieties and make cotton in spite of the weevils. They recommend the Cleveland-Wanamaker and Acala No. 5. They say Mebane matures too late. However, Mr. Roberts calls attention to the fact that last year even the Acala failed to get by in south-central Oklahoma. He does not advise any particular variety but advises the farmers to keep their eyes open and plant the best they can get.

County Agent Hill suggests that as the subsoil is still dry the outlook for corn is not specially promising as yet, it might be well for the farmers to prepare to plant a lot of other feed crops to be on the safe side. He suggests such crops as feterita, kafir and peanuts. In view of the fact that three good corn crops in succession have been made in this county, something rather unusual here, the law of averages would indicate that a short crop might be expected this year. Of course it is not impossible to make another good crop of corn but perhaps it would be safer to consider Mr. Hill's suggestion.

The boys and girls club of Pickett school completed their organization Friday afternoon and elected the following officers: Johnnie Ferguson, president; Earl Hoover, vice-president; Veulah Muks, secretary-treasurer. Sixteen wide awake young people enrolled as members and the club begins work with good prospects.

Agent Hill says many good farmers of the county are harrowing their ground well after breaking it in order to hold the moisture. He says this is the very best thing they could do for by pulverizing the soil a mulch is formed which retains the moisture, something that is very important at this time. The seed bed is a water reservoir which stores the moisture.

Here is a little advice from H. W. Plettner, agent of Coal county, which appeared in a Coalgate paper last week:

The time to plant corn will soon be here. At this writing, very little of our corn ground is in good shape to receive the seed. Unless we get moisture soon, the corn ground must be thoroughly worked down to assure a stand.

The present fine weather might tempt some to put their seed in the ground before the seed bed is properly prepared. Let no one get in a hurry. It is easier to work your ground into good shape before, than after planting. There is plenty of time to plant corn. Keep the seed in the sack in good shape. Fix your ground so that every seed will come when you plant.

There will be special danger of getting your seed covered too deep, if you plant in badly prepared dry soil. Corn planted early will not stand being covered deep. See that your ground is pulverized and worked up until the moisture is close to the surface. Then, do not plant your corn over 1 inch deep, before March 15th. After that deeper planting might be safe.

Don't take chances, use every proper precaution and get your crop started off right.

Wish you might compare the stands of oats well prepared seed beds and those that have been heged in. You can find both kinds in your community.

The same difference will show up in the corn fields later.

Careful tests have proved that corn yields are increased from 5 to 15 bushels per acre by using seed corn that has not been heated, or exposed to extreme changes of temperature. You will do well to spend some time getting proper ears for seed. The soundest and best are none too good. You can afford to plant no other. If you have no corn good enough for seed, get some from a neighbor that has better corn. Remember that it does make a difference what kind of seed you plant.

Let us all do a little better than ever before. It will pay to do so.

The Tactics of Despair.

(American Legion Weekly)

Louder grows the beating of tom-toms in Washington by the lobbyists selfish business who have been commissioned to defeat the Adjusted Compensation Bill at any cost. And while the clamor about the Capitol doubles, voices and commands echo from the forty-eight states as the big business associations try to drive their members by the goose step to the firing line against the Legion's bill. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the American Banker's Association, the National Association of Manufacturers have ordered general mobilization. From Washington and Wall Street they are pushing the buttons which they hope will bring upon Congress a phonographic roar of remonstrance. They have urged their individual members in the cities and States to bring all the pressure possible upon Senators and Representatives to make them vote against the bill. They are in earnest. They have abandoned the semblance of reason, willingness to see justice done and fair play. They now have only one aim, to kill the Adjusted Compensation Bill, and they consider apparently that any end justifies the means.

Brokerage and banking houses with a national clientele are sending broadcast personal letters beseeching their representatives and customers to protest to Congress and to rally all those whom they can influence to the same. The tickers are clicking off the "work and fight" orders. The confidential news letters usually devoted to tips on the market are freighted with appeals for emergency relief to defeat the Veteran's bill.

Ordinary methods having proved ineffective, the interlocked opponents of the Adjusted Compensation Bill have been using tactics of desperation. The latest strategy is an organized movement among certain of the larger firms of the New York Stock Exchange to work up an array of fictitious sentiment by inducing—compelling, if necessary—their employees to write letters to Senators and Representatives and to President Harding himself.

A shameful example of such tactics recently came to light. A stock exchange firm employing more than 300 men and women assembled its workers in groups and notified them that each one was expected to prepare and submit to his department head four letters expressing disapproval of the Adjusted Compensation Bill. Two of these letters were to be addressed to the United States Senators of the state in which the employee lived. One was to be addressed to the Congressman representing his district. The fourth was to be addressed to President Harding. Suggested forms to be followed in writing these letters were read to the workers. The ex-service men employees of this house were instructed to state that they were writing "as an ex-service man opposed" to the Adjusted Compensation Bill.

And here is the most damning fact—all employees were instructed to deliver their letters in unsealed envelopes for the inspection of their employers who, it was explained, would themselves attend to the little detail of actually mailing the letters. They were told that the letters to Senators and Congressmen would be mailed immediately—those intended for President Harding would be held "until the proper time."

Just how many other concerns have adopted this system of letter writing under the lash, with dismissal the implied penalty for disobedience, cannot be learned at this moment. But it is more than a coincidence that recently, when a Washington correspondent quoted from a group of letters purporting to have been written by ex-service men opposed to compensation almost all of the authors proved to be banking or brokerage employees.

This strategy of selfish business' hard-fought retreat will only strengthen the Legion's cause in its clean fight for the adoption of a just bill. Every day it becomes clearer that the Legion is fortunate in its enemies.

Their Own Medicine.

(Fort Worth Star Telegram)

President Harding and Senator Lodge are now receiving a dose of their own medicine in the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate.

The president very naturally does not want to see reservations to the four-power treaty which would impair its meaning and modify its character, adopted.

His position is precisely that which was taken by President Wilson with respect to the Treaty of Versailles.

Senator Lodge, who was the chief opponent of President Wilson, is supporting President Harding's view and is attempting to get the treaty through the committee with nullifying reservations. To this end he has offered a blanket reservation, very much of the same character as those offered by Senator Hitchcock to the Treaty of Versailles, and approved by President Wilson. But Senator Borah and Senator Johnson, with whose aid Senator Lodge defeated the Treaty of Versailles, are opposing such a "mild" reservation and are insisting upon reservations with teeth in them.

If there were no considerations involved but partisan interests the country could afford to laugh at the plight in which President Harding and Senator Lodge find themselves.

As we say, they are getting a dose of their own medicine.

But that is not all that is involved. Just as the highest interests of the country were involved when the Treaty of Versailles was before the Senate, and not merely the desires of President Wilson and the interests of the Democrats, so now the highest interests of the country are involved in this fight over the treaties growing out of the Arms Conference.

The United States has nothing to fear in entering into these treaties without dotting an "I" or crossing a "t." It can be expected that the other nations that are parties to the treaties will ratify them without question, just as they negotiated, and just as they ratified the Treaty of Versailles.

Is the United States alone, the richest and most powerful nation in the world, to show a timid fear which is becoming characteristic of its dealings with other nations?

Is such an attitude worthy of this country? Does it reflect the spirit of our people?

We do not think so. We think that the United States can take care of itself in relation with other nations, no matter what treaties it is found necessary to enter into in the interest of peace and good feeling in the world.

The four-power treaty and the other treaties should be ratified without nullifying reservations.

SHIPBUILDER IS INDICTED ALONG WITH THREE SONS

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Indictments against Charles W. Morse, shipbuilder, his three sons, Benjamin, Harry and Ervin; Calin H. Livingstone, of Washington, president of the government ship building corporation; and several others were returned today by the federal grand jury which has been investigating the war time transactions of Morse and some of his associates with the shipping board.

Two indictments were returned on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government and the other charged conspiracy to commit an offense against the government.

Morse in a statement issued thru his attorney after the indictment had been returned, declared the proceedings brought against him were the results of "animus" on the part of Attorney General Daugherty.

INCH SNOW OVER
WEST KANSAS IS REPORTED TODAY

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27.—Snow averaging one inch in depth fell generally over western Kansas and the Texas panhandle, reaching as far as Amarillo, last night and early today, according to reports reaching the local weather bureau today. The eastern half of Kansas and Texas panhandle, reaching as far as Amarillo, last night and early today, according to reports reaching the local weather bureau today. The eastern half of Kansas and western Missouri received general light snows followed by showers Saturday night and Sunday, P. Connor, local weather man said.

Mr. Connor predicted a general snow for Kansas again tonight or early tomorrow. The storm, he said, probably will extend into western and southern Missouri, Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle Tuesday. This probable precipitation, he said, is moving in from a wide storm area prevailing in the southern plateau regions, embracing most of the southern Utah and Rocky mountain regions.

"There is no indication of any warm weather in Kansas, Oklahoma or Missouri this week," Mr. Connor said. "Temperatures will remain very low."

Legion Commander Calls on Harding Today To Urge Faster Action.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, republican house leader and Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee are understood to have discussed the soldier bonus situation with President Harding today at the White House. They were said to have informed President Harding of the rejection by the special committee of the sales tax proposition suggested by Mr. Hard in his letter last week to Representative Fordney.

Before seeing the president, Mr. Fordney conferred with Hanford McNider, national commander of the American Legion, and John Thomas Taylor, legislative agent of the American Legion. Mr. McNider and Mr. Taylor, called at the White House to see the president but were informed that Mr. Harding's engagement list for the forenoon was filled. They said they would return later in the day.

Mr. McNider said the legion was opposed to any further delay and indicated that it was his desire to present his views to the executive. He re-iterated that the legion would not be drawn into any discussion of ways and means to raise the necessary bonus finances.

Oklahoma Farm Bulletin

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 27.—Rains fell over practically the entire state during the middle of the week followed by colder weather the latter half. The heaviest precipitation was recorded in the northern and eastern counties, where more than an inch of rain was reported in various places. The drought was broken in the southwestern part; Altus reporting .31 of an inch. Points throughout the heaviest wheat producing sections in the western part of the state have reported rainfall from .25 to .75 of an inch.

When the weather becomes more moderate in the western counties, the farmers in these sections will be able to resume their plowing for spring crops, which had been held up for some time due to lack of moisture. Farm work in these parts is below normal for this time of the year and considerably behind as compared with other parts of the state.

Wheat shows a slight improvement throughout the important producing sections having been materially benefited by the recent rains. The 1922 crop will probably show one of the heaviest abandonment figures ever reported for the state.

The sowing of oats continued northward in the state during the week. Those farmers who were held off on account of moisture conditions will be able to finish their plowing and seeding in the very near future.

More than $4,000,000.00 in applications have been approved to date by the War Finance Corporation and the money distributed to the various banks and other organizations in the state. An increased interest is shown by the number of applications which are rapidly being passed upon.

The Oklahoma National Bank of Skiatook, Oklahoma has, in the making, a very interesting and substantial proposition designed to help the farmers of that community. With the co-operation of the other business men, they are contemplating hiring an experienced man on a yearly salary, whose duty will be similar to the county agent but the real object in view is to better marketing conditions. They are anxious to establish a good year-around market for their products and to decrease the size of the farms. Instead of having the average farm of 138 acres, they desire to split these farms into tracts of 40 and 60 acres, in order that each farmer will be able to farm profitably and get the best returns per acre from the acreage in cultivation.

Skiatook is connected with Tulsa by a hard-surfaced road and there is no reason why this proposition would not be a good investment for the business men of that community. Of course they are keeping in mind the profits from the cows, hogs and chickens.

Farmers all over the state appear more optimistic in their plans for the coming crop year; especially is this true in the cotton counties that suffered the heaviest losses last year. Farm work is reported above normal in all sections except in the western counties where they have been held up by the continued dry weather of the past.—J. A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture.

Mary Wynn, the pretty little screen protege of J. L. Frothingham, the producer, boasts an uncle who is famous for his daring acrobatics and riding skill. Mary's uncle is none other than the devil-may-care Eddie Polo of motion picture serial fame. Uncle Eddie has taught Miss Mary numerous stunts and feats of daring. She is said to have an excellent opportunity to display her ability in the Frothingham production. "The Man Who Smiled" soon to be released. Miss Wynn says all of her stunt training has stood her in good stead at various times in her short screen career.

Barbara Tennant Back
Ten years ago, when a two-reel picture was a feature production, one of the film's brightest stars was Barbara Tennant, then with Eclair. After an absence of seven years she is only now returning to the screen via Richard Walton Tully's production of "The Masquerader," now being filmed with Guy Bates Post as the star. Added interest in Miss Tennant's return in the fact that Georges Beaufort, her cameraman of the old days, is also acting as cinematographer for "The Masquerader," in which she will be seen as Robins, a devoted landlady.

DYNAMITE BLAST CAUSES CHICAGO TO FEAR BOMBING

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Chicago and dozens of its suburbs today found out just what caused the explosion which literally shook them to their foundations and caused a frenzy of excitement last night.

Thirty tons of dynamite let go in a stone quarry southwest of the city shortly before 9 o'clock and hundreds of thousands of alarmed residents went to bed not knowing just what happened only to give rise to rumors and reports of concentrated bomb squads, an earthquake, a falling meteor, and disaster to some of the manufacturing plants.

For an hour after the blast Chicago and its suburbs were in a frenzy. The smashing of glass in thousands of windows, the shaking of buildings and the noise of the explosion gave rise to reports that bombs were exploding simultaneously in many parts of the city.

In spite of the large area of land affected by last night's blasts, only one man was seriously injured.

AN ARDMORE MOTHER GIVES FERVENT THANKS

For Two Long Months Daughter Suffered. After Taking Puratone Short Time Is Well and Happy.

"I cannot tell how thankful I am to Puratone," is the way Mrs. Bonnie Gaines, 726 Fourth Avenue, N. E., Ardmore, wife of the former of the composing room of the Daily Ardmore, began her expression of thanks to Puratone, the wonderfully successful medicine recently introduced into Oklahoma.

"My daughter Ruth's body was badly broken out," she went on, "and she felt miserable all the time; was drowsy and indifferent when up, and her sleep at night was not restful. She had no appetite and we were worried to death about her."

"A friend told us about Puratone and I decided to have Ruth take it. No one knows how thankful I am that I did. Her sores are all gone; she feels splendidly, is cheerful and happy and has absolutely no bad symptoms. And, Oh! how she does eat! Is that not enough to make anyone thankful and make them want to tell every man, woman and child in Oklahoma what this wonderful Puratone will really do?"

Puratone is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Store; Allen, Gwin & Saffrars; Steedman, John Edwards; Stonewall, C. L. Burnett; Stratford, Bayless Drug Co., and leading druggists everywhere.

Jan. 13—Ames at Norman.

Dyer Unwilling To Let Probe Rest in Office of Hightight

(By the Associated Press)

ARDMORE, Jan. 6.—While no charges of laxity of law enforcement are filed against Chief of Police W. R. Hightight, City Manager Kirk Dyer announced last night that he would not let the criticism of that office be passed without notice and has requested of the attorney general that information which was gathered against the officer.

Elmer E. Fulton announced late last Wednesday that he would not file ouster proceedings against Hightight because of the provision in the city charter listing the power of enforcing the laws and ordinances in the hands of the city manager.

J. B. Champion, chief attorney for Sheriff Buck Garrett, announced ready for trial yesterday afternoon on the ouster charge that has been filed against the sheriff. He will be defended by 15 attorneys, Mr. Champion said.

The tailor of the future will take his measurements for a suit of clothes with the camera. A special tape measure marked with big figures is fitted from the neck to the feet, and three others around the back, waist and hips. A photograph is then taken of the tailor's client from the front, side and back. The tailor thus obtains a permanent record with all the necessary measurements.

Winter Wheat Hits Lowest Level Says December 1 Report

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 5.—The condition of winter wheat in Oklahoma on December 1 was 54 percent which was lowest recorded in many years, says a resume of conditions issued here today by H. H. Schutz, federal crop statistician for Oklahoma. The condition is 22 points below the average for the United States, the report says. The condition of winter wheat in Kansas, according to the report, was 60 percent of normal; Texas, 42 percent; New Mexico, 60 percent; and Montana, 58 percent. Other states report fair to very good conditions, the report states.

The acreage sown in this state before December 1 was estimated at 90 percent of last year's total or 3,550,000 acres. The greatest reduction was noted in the eastern part. The total acreage put to wheat in the United States was 44,293,000, the report reveals.

The price of winter wheat in Oklahoma on December 1 was 86 cents, according to the survey. At the same time in 1920 it was $1.35, the report recalled, and added that Kansas reported a price of 93 cents for December 1, 1922, while the average in the United States was 95.2 cents.

Hope is still held out for a fair crop should Oklahoma receive moisture before extreme cold weather grips the state. On account of the weakened condition of the wheat roots, due to lack of moisture, a severe freeze, it was said, would probably do serious damage.

The state report shows the conditions of the crop on December 1, in various sections of the state as follows: Northwest 45; north 66; northeast 72; west 46; center 55; east 62; southwest 35; south 45; and southeast 70.

Mine Workers Stop Relief Payment To Striking Kansans

(By the Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—President Frank Farrington of the Illinois United Mine Workers, has announced that the monthly assessment for benefit of Kansas strikers has been discontinued. This act is in line with orders sent by International President John L. Lewis several weeks ago, but Farrington said the Illinois miners are discontinuing the benefit money for another season.

"The Kansas strikers no longer need it," he said.

Mr. Farrington announced that votes by the Illinois miners on the authority of their district convention to levy the assessment will be continued. The ballots will be counted at the state headquarters January 16.

The state executive board recently voted to submit to a referendum vote the question of collecting a $1 a month assessment, which the international discontinued. This proposition is not submitted to a referendum and it has been dismissed in a signed statement issued by President Farrington, who announced that recent developments in the Kansas situation made it "unnecessary to continue the $1 assessment levied by our Peoria convention."

PITTSBURG, Kan., Jan. 6.—John Atkinson and Guy Flynn of the Illinois committee in charge of the distribution of relief for the Kansas miners said today that they knew of no plan for cutting off the relief. They asserted that a story that relief would be cut off was being circulated here by agents of the international miners' union.

Mystery of Tribal Lore Brought Into Play When Foch Gets Indian Title

(By the Associated Press)

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 6.—All the mystery of the Indian understanding of life, earth, water and sky entered into ceremony in which the members of the Teton tribe of the Sioux named Marshal Foch and smoked with him the pipe of peace, according to Melvin R. Gilmore, curator of the North Dakota Historical Society. In the rush of completing the ceremony within the allotted a few minutes, a wrong interpretation was placed upon the name bestowed by Red-tomahawk, according to Mr. Gilmore, who had the Indian chief repeat the name after the ceremony, that no might be certain of having it correctly placed in his historical records. Marshal Foch is placed in the mythology of the Tetons as Charging Lightning, the word for thunder and lightning, being almost the same.

Foch Puffs on Pipe. "He then lighted the pipe and drew upon it, and then offered the mouthpiece to the Marshal, who also drew upon it, and then to Major Welch.

Red Tomahawk was obliged to abbreviate the ceremony because of the lack of time. He also abbreviated the explanations of the symbolism for the same reason. If time had permitted all should have been seated upon the ground.

"The material for smoking, with which the pipe was filled, was a mixture of tobacco and the inner bark of a native shrub, pieces of dogwood, Cornus stolonifera.

"Tobacco is invested with something of mystery and sacredness in the Indian thought, and was used ceremonially in the manner of incense.

"After delivering the pipe to Marshal Foch Red-tomahawk cleared his desire and purpose to confer upon the Marshal the honor of a name in the Dakota nation, Wakinyan Watakap. This name with which Red-tomahawk invested the Marshal has significance in connection with the historic message sent by the Marshal at the first battle of the Marne: 'The situation is excellent, I am attacking!' The meaning of the Dakota word watakap is 'to make an attack,' 'to charge'. The meaning of the Dakota word wakinyan is lightning. There for the meaning of the name is 'Lightning-in-attack,' or 'Lightning-which-attacks.'
